Dear Members of ILA,

I am glad to inform you that dynamic website (Portal) of ILA is now coming into its final shape. One of the daunting tasks in developing the interactive portal was to develop a database of ILA members with 10 different types of memberships, spread into 7 different zones. The database can be accessed by clicking on the 'List of members' under the section 'About ILA' of the Portal.

To update your profile, you need a User ID/ ILA Membership Number (which is either known to you or can be selected from the list of members).

To get the password for editing your own profile, please email to: care.ilaindia@gmail.com along with your following information:

      1) ILA Membership Number

      2) Name

      3) Mobile Number

      4) Email ID

Pl. Note:

After receiving your request, a password will be e-mailed to you, which you must reset to get a new Password and keep it safe with you.

D.O. No. F. 1-1/2016(Secy)

8th August, 2016

Dear Sir/Madam,

The University Grants Commission vide its notification No.F1-2/2016(PS/Amendment) dated 11th July, 2016 had notified UGC (Minimum Qualifications for Appointment of Teachers and other Academic Staff in Universities and Colleges and Measures for the Maintenance of Standards in Higher Education) (4th Amendment), Regulations, 2016. As per the Appendix-III, Category-III of Table-I, Table-IV and Table-VII, under the Research and Academic Contributions, the University Grants Commission is to notify the Journals to be considered for the purpose of computation of API scores. The basis for identification of journals is that the university concerned shall identify the subject-wise journals through Subject Expert Committees and forward the recommendations to the UGC in the format which is attached along with this letter. The UGC Standing Committee will scrutinize the list of journals and notify the same. It is pertinent to mention here that list of notified journals will be applicable to all universities.
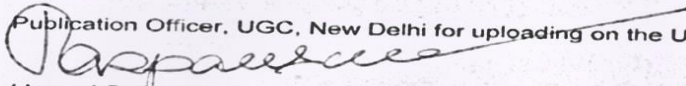

You are requested to kindly send the list of journals duly recommended by the Subject Expert Committees in "excel format" to UGC on the email: ugc.api@gmail.com. The hard copies of the list shall follow subsequently with the due signature of the Dean Academic Affairs/Director Research or officer of equivalent position so as to start the process of scrutiny in UGC.

Since, the issue pertains both to recruitment and promotion of teachers; you are requested to accord top priority to it. For any clarification, kindly contact Dr. Renu Batra, Joint Secretary, UGC, New Delhi on phone 011-23231273.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

(Jaspal S. Sandhu)

List of Journals under Academic Programme Indicators System

The University Grants Commission (UGC) has informed that it has constituted a Standing Committee, under the chairpersonship of Prof. V.S. Chauhan, Member, UGC for the purposes of preparing a "List of Journals" as required under clause 6.0.5(i) of University Grants Commission (Minimum qualifications for appointment of teachers and other academic staff in universities and colleges and measures for the maintenance of standards in higher education) (4th Amendment), Regulations, 2016. The regulations are available at http://egazette.nic.in/WriteReadData/2016/170658.pdf.

As per these regulations only those research papers that are published in the journals included in the "List of Journals" are eligible for scoring on the research and academic contribution category of the Academic Performance Indicators (API) for teacher and academic staff. The identification of journals by the committee will be an ongoing and continuous process. The regulations have been notified on 11th July, 2016.

- Announcing the development of SocArXiv, an open social science archive

  SocArXiv announces a partnership with the Center for Open Science to develop a free, open access, open source archive for social science research. The initiative responds to growing recognition of the need for faster, open sharing of research on a truly open access platform for the social sciences.

  The first phase of the project will be a preprint server for social scientists, providing the following services:

  - Fast, free uploading of academic papers and open access for all readers
  - Free registration open to all, regardless of academic affiliation
  - Permanent identifiers that link to the latest version of a paper (authors can provide links to versions published elsewhere)
  - Full access and discoverability through Google Scholar and other research tools
  - The option to use any Creative Commons license
  - Comment and discussion on papers among registered users
  - Grouping of papers together for conferences or working groups
  - Analytics data on how often papers have been accessed
  - Easy sharing on social media sites – without requiring readers to register

  The details of the news are available at: https://scholarlykitchen.sspnet.org/2016/07/25/what-is-socarxiv/

- Aksharaveedhi: An open-air library in Kerala that makes books accessible to all

  A group of artists and art lovers in Thiruvananthapuram is not only basking in the sunshine, but also in the glory of having conceptualised an open-air library. For over a month now, an open-air library called "Aksharaveedhi" has been functioning on the streets of "Manaveeyam Veedhi" (cultural corridor). The Malayalam word "Aksharaveedhi" roughly translates to "the path of words".

  The open-air library was conceptualised by Team Nizhalattam, an artists' forum with close to 100 members. It functions during the weekends from 6 am till late in the night. The books include famous novels and children's literature in Malayalam, English and Hindi. However, newspapers that figure into the essentials list for a Malayali after food, shelter and clothing are made available throughout the week. Along with encouraging a reading culture, library also want to promote these kinds of values,". The team plans to introduce CDs of classic films to their collection in the future.

- Amazon launches used books in India to tap smaller town readers

  Amazon has launched a dedicated section for used books on its platform in India as it looks to make inroads into the country's semi-urban and rural markets. Just as the company pioneered the concept of online selling by shipping books in the late 1990s, it is now deploying the same model to crack the price-sensitive Indian market with affordable, used textbooks and novels. "With this launch, reading enthusiasts across the country can now buy used books with the same ease and convenience as buying new books," said Noor Patel, director of category management at Amazon India.

  Amazon says, book sales on its platform have grown 20 times over the past three years since the company launched its services in India. It now has millions of titles and 9,400 sellers of books on its platform, making it the country's largest book store. So far, Amazon has been listing only fiction on its site. However, India is largely dominated by textbooks in the offline world.

- Dokk1 - the winner of the Public Library of the Year Award 2016

  With its unique and central location in the city, Dokk1 has become a key element in the forward-looking strategy for creating more life by serving multidirectional services to the individuals of the locality. It is evident that accessibility has been given high priority, not only in the positioning of the library, but also in the many outdoor areas and staircases that provide access to the building from all sides and also to the collection of the library.

  The prize (US$ 5,000) is awarded by the Danish Agency for Culture and Palaces as a part of the Model Programme for Public Libraries with IT company Systematic as sponsor. The assessment criteria used for selecting the best library like interaction with the surroundings and local culture, architectural quality, flexibility (including how rooms are designed and organized), sustainability, learning space, digitization, etc.

Celebration of National Librarian's Day and 125th Birth Anniversary of Dr. S. R. Ranganathan

The Department of Library and Information Science, AMU organised a program on National Librarian's Day and 125th Birth Anniversary of Dr. S. R. Ranganathan (father of Library Science in India) on 18th August, 2016. The program was attended by the faculty members, Research Scholars and the students of the Department. The chief guest of the occasion was Padmashri Prof. Syed Zillur Rahman (President, Ibn Sina Academy of Medieval Medicine and Sciences, Aligarh) and the function was presided over by the Chairman DLIS and the President of Indian Library Association, Prof. Shabahat Husain. The coordinator of the program was Prof. Naushad Ali, P.M.
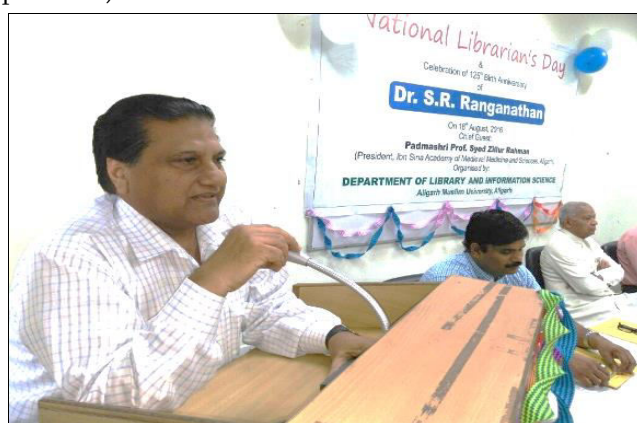

The chief guest, Prof. Syed Zillur Rahman articulated that the libraries and the museums are the nerve centers of the culture in our society and made a mention of preserving and conserving the cultural assets of our society, as they are the identities of our existence. While congratulating the chairman of the department for organising such programmes, Prof. Rahman desired celebrating the birth anniversary of Padmashri Prof. S. Bashiruddin (Ex-University Librarian, M. A. Library, AMU) as well. He also expressed that the very essence of human existence on earth is doing something good for the society and the preservation of culture and language, is one of the most important aspects to work on for upholding the distinctiveness of our civilization.

While providing a picturesque representation of Dr. S. R. Ranganathan's life changing lessons and his contributions to the field of library science, Prof. Shabahat Husain dwelled upon the philosophical basis of libraries and librarianship. He described three categories of human beings in our society, namely the followers, the leaders, and the Pattern Makers. Dr. S.R.Ranganathan was one of the profiles in the third category of rare group of persons. Prof. Husain also mentioned the contributions of Prof. Syed Zillur Rahman and expressed that there are a lot of similarities between Dr. S.R.Ranganathan and the Prof. Syed Zillur Rahman, in serving the society and living a saintly life for the sake of knowledge and an urge for giving back to the society.

Prof. Naushad Ali, P.M elegantly welcomed the chief guest, president of the function and the audience, and gave an inclusive stance of the life sketch of Dr. S.R.Ranganathan. He made a mention that the national librarian's day is not only celebrated to recognise the services of libraries and library science leaders but at the same time, put across the message of hard working, dedication, commitment to the duties and a sense of responsibility. Prof. Ali expressed that the day should be remembered by refreshing and rejuvenating ourselves for the newer skills and techniques to serve more effectively and proficiently to the society.

Dr. M. Masoom Raza (Associate Professor, DLIS), Ms. Sofia Alvera and Mr. Mohd. Rahimullah were the representative speakers from the faulty members, research scholars and the students respectively.

The vote of thanks was proposed by Dr. Muzamil Mushtaq (Assistant Professor, DLIS) and the program was conducted by Ms. Areeba Tauseef (Research Scholar in the Department).

- Outside the Lines
  It is an initiative designed by Colorado library marketers and directors that gets libraries "walking the walk" – taking action to show our communities how important libraries are and how they've changed. Libraries across the globe are facing issues and challenges of identity and dignity. The program is an opportunity to participate in an international grassroots initiative that demonstrates how the library is more relevant than ever. We're encouraging libraries of all types and sizes to participate and we're asking for your help in spreading the word. There are more than 160 participating libraries this year. We're hoping to not only grow that number, but expand participation to libraries all over the globe. Together, we can help shift perceptions of libraries everywhere. The details of the program are as:

What is Outside the Lines?

Libraries have changed in recent years into spaces for innovation, creativity and technology. Yet, outdated perceptions of libraries persist. Now in its third year, Outside the Lines is a weeklong celebration from September 11-17, 2016 to demonstrate the creativity and innovation happening in libraries. Libraries of all types including urban, rural, academic, special, small and large can participate in OTL.

Let's not just tell people how libraries have changed; let's show them.

Why participate?

- Join more than 160 other participating organizations in demonstrating how libraries are more relevant than ever.
- Reintroduce yourself to your community through bold, fun campaigns that engage with people where they live, work and play.
- Support from Team OTL: We're here to help you brainstorm ideas, share your stories with media and provide webinars, graphics and templates to support your OTL events and campaigns.

Outside the Lines participants report increases in social media engagement, press coverage and new library users as a direct result in their participation.

How to participate:

- Sign up online at getoutsidethelines.org
- Brainstorm ideas with staff on ways to engage with your community
- Share your story online with the #getOTL hashtag
